Dear Hiring Manager,

Thank you for the opportunity to apply for the Graphic Designer role at your company. After reviewing the job description, it's clear that you're looking for a candidate that is familiar with the responsibilities associated with the role, and can perform them confidently. Given these requirements, I am certain that I have the necessary skills to successfully do the job and perform above expectations.

I am a detail-oriented recent college graduate (3.43 GPA, Visual Communication - Graphic Design) from Northern Arizona University. Throughout my academic career, I was consistently praised as quality-oriented by my professors and peers. I like to blend my knowledge of vector illustrations with typography as well as photography. I am very detail-oriented and am very willing to take critique as it betters the final result and improves myself. Through college I created posters, infographics, app/web layouts, brochures, packaging and more.

I am hoping to launch my career as a graphic designer here as I hope you respect that I have not had a job in the field yet. I have experience with a wide variety of digital and print mediums that can be viewed at <https://www.behance.net/dominicdavies>.

Sincerely,

I am a recent graduate looking to start my career in a field I have grown to love through these last four years at university. I am a detail-oriented designer who enjoys collaborating with others while also working entirely by myself when asked. Aside from my passion to create compelling designs and graphics, I also have a passion for photography and photo-editing as well.
