CURRENT ROLE: INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY STUDENT

I'm an information technology student with experience developing and publishing web applications and troubleshooting hardware and software issues. I've recently passed the 220-1001 A+ exam and will take the 220-1002 at the beginning of January 2022. I'm also registered for online Network+ classes for the Spring semester and expect to be certified by May 2022. I'm looking for an entry-level position in IT to start my career as I gain more certifications to advance in the industry. My previous work experience has given me a lot of insight into the use of technology for daily business functions in the service, retail, and warehouse distribution industries and I wish to apply my knowledge and growing skill set in IT.
